my departure which reflected that the due date for payment of the issue fee had been removed from the firm's docketing system, indicating that the action required had been taken.

The physical file for this matter was eventually transferred to me at my new law firm for further handling, together with paper and electronic copies of an updated docket report, received March 19, 2007. Although the updated paper copy of the docket report provided by the previous law firm still indicated that the issue fee and continuation application due in this matter had been submitted, the docket entry for the issue fee due date in the electronic copy of the docket report remained open. Investigation into the discrepancy between the hard copy and electronic copy of the docket revealed that copies of the documents prepared for the submission were absent from the physical file and their submission was not recorded in PAIR. This petition was prepared immediately on discovery that the issue fee that was to have been submitted by the previous law firm apparently had not been submitted.

The entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for reply until the filing of the accompanying grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR § 1.137(b) was unintentional.

This statement accompanies the Petition for Revival, along with a check in the amount of $1,780.00. In support of said Petition, this document provides the required statement that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for reply until the filing of the accompanying grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR § 1.137(b) was unintentional.

AN UNINTENTIONALLY ABANDONED PATENT APPLICATION

This Statement accompanies a Petition for Revival of the above-identified application under the provisions of 37 CFR § 1.137(b) on the grounds that the application was abandoned unintentionally by Applicant. It is respectfully submitted that Applicant's failure to pay the issue fee required by the Notice of Allowance mailed December 21, 2006 was an unintentional error.

I, the undersigned, left the previous law firm of record on February 22, 2007. At that time, all papers necessary to submit the issue fee and file a continuation application had been prepared and it is my understanding based on discussion with the staff responsible for mailing the documents to the US Patent and Trademark Office that they had been submitted. This understanding was confirmed by a paper docket report provided by my previous law firm prior to
